FACTSHEET : ELEGANCE 1 & 2 - Infrared glass heating panel

Do you like warm bath towels? With the elegant infrared glass heating panel, you not only get a heater but also an elegant and modern design piece at home. Thanks to its cutting-edge technology, the unit distributes the warmth evenly around the room and there are no temperature differences as with conventional heating units. The units are fitted with overheat prevention and spray water protection, making them extremely safe.

Infrared radiators heat up the body and objects, and distribute the warmth evenly around the room without temperature differences. Not only do they aid muscle relaxation and are beneficial to your health, they also use less energy – save up to 50% on your electricity bills! The glass heating panels are easy to clean and do not take up much space. Their spray water protection feature means they can be mounted in bathrooms. An optional thermostat can also be fitted.
